

Job Vacancy September 2017

Legal Counsel Part Time

We currently have an opportunity for an experienced and passionate Legal Counsel to join our team part time – 24 hours per week flexible days and hours to suit the ideal candidate. This is an exciting opportunity to work in a fast paced FCMG, ASX business, with a challenging and diverse workload, and the opportunity to work closely with the Senior Management Team.

About the role:

Reporting to the COO/CFO you will ensure the Company's operations are conducted within the limits prescribed by law, and that its rights are fully protected through the provision of legal counsel and guidance.

Key accountabilities are:

Primary:

- Negotiation and administration of business related contracts e.g. licence agreements, distribution agreements, manufacturing agreements, service contracts, office leases, procurement, non-disclosure agreements and other commercial agreements.
- Compliance with ASX Listing Rules, Corporations Act, Australian Consumer Law and other relevant regulations.
- Management of intellectual property portfolio (trade marks, designs and patents) and contracts database.
- Advise on strategic matters (Acquisitions, Divestments, Joint Ventures).
- Collaborate or cooperate with external counsel on the above matters.

Secondary:

- Advise on disputes (escalated consumer and retailer claims, general commercial disputes, anti-counterfeiting).
- Assisting with Company Secretarial function.
- Advise on discrete privacy, employment, competition and other legal issues affecting the Company's business.

About you:

We are seeking an individual who will hit the ground running and provide technically excellent advice with a commercial and practical approach. Your ability to work autonomously and provide timely and straightforward advice will be highly valued.

The successful candidate must hold a current practising certificate with 5 to 8 years PAE. Previous experience in either private practice or in-house is essential. Experience within an FMCG company and general commercial experience (e.g. commercial contract review, drafting and negotiation, M&A, procurement and e-commerce) will be highly valued but not essential.

Job Vacancy September 2017

About us:

With our HQ located in Melbourne, Australia, and offices in Hong Kong and China, with a distribution network spanning across 50 of the world's most lucrative markets.

Funtastic Limited is a publicly listed Australian company established in 1994. We are a leading marketer, manufacturer and distributor of toys, sporting goods, apparel and confectionery.

Developing and delivering world class product innovation and global fulfilment across a range of exciting brands and products for families, is what drives us, and after 20 great years of Fun, the best is yet to come.

We look forward to you joining us on this Funtastic journey, as we continue to deliver fun to families across the globe.

What will you get from us:

- Newly furnished modern, bright and colourful office, filled with toys and a large kitchen & eating area;
- Subsidised Gym Membership
- Free staff parking

If you thrive in an environment of constant innovation, opportunity and positive change, this is the ideal career offering.

To be considered for this role, please email your resume and cover letter to: recruitment@funtastic.com.au by Friday 22 September 2017.